WHAT EVOLUTION IS AND IS NOT

DOES NOT TEACH MAN IS DESCENDED FROM MONKEYS

By J. W. T. MASON
(Written for United Press)

Evolution does not teach that man is descended from monkeys. Man represents one direction evolution has taken, and monkeys represent another direction.

Evolution neither affirms nor denies the divinity of Christ. Evolution deals with bodily forms and organs. It does not pronounce doctrines about spirit.

Evolution does not contradict the Ten Commandments. On the contrary, whoever obeys the Ten Commandments is far more likely to progress further in evolution than those who do not.

Evolution does not deny the existence of God. Evolution has no theory explaining the origin of existence. People who believe in God, the spirit, can also believe in the evolution of living forms of matter without contradicting themselves.

Evolution is a method whereby the past passes on its attainments to the present so that life can learn by experience and can safeguard progress.

It was once believed the earth was flat. Many men of that time believed to deny this and to teach the earth was round was to deny the existence of God.

It was once believed the sun went around the earth. Many men of that time, as self-appointed censors of God, believed to deny this and to teach the earth went around the sun was to deny the existence of God.

O'Keefe has been sought for the past month since he left Austin for Chicago to complete negotiations for purchase of a large residence.

CARES OF STATE FOLLOW HIM ON HIS VACATION

PRES. COOLIDGE FINDS A DESKFUL OF MATTER TO ENGRESS HIS ATTENTION

2 PROBLEMS ARE COAL STRIKE AND KLAN CONVENTION IN WASHINGTON

Swampscott, Mass., July 2.—President Coolidge is discovering that cares of state center as thickly about him on vacation as though he was still at his desk in Washington.

Although the routine matters have decidedly lessened since he came north, he is still faced with the necessity of making executive decisions. He was presented today with two major problems which so far do not threaten to assume imposing proportions before the end of his vacation.

One is the possibility of the nationwide coal strike and the other is the Klan convention in Washington which, though less pretentious, may prove extremely vexing.

The speech by President John Lewis of the United Mine Workers pointing out the possibility of trouble in the coal fields later in the summer immediately excited speculation here.

At present, Mr. Coolidge has no idea of taking steps of any sort, but he recognizes the coal situation may develop into suffering which he may have to deal with, and therefore, he is keeping a watchful eye upon it.

The Klan assemblage in Washington next month presents a lesser problem, but one which will probably demand earlier consideration. The president has not yet formally received the invitation to address the meeting and review the parade, but when and if the invitation is extended, he will point out his inability to do on account of his vacation here in New England.

Not content with such a negative position, opponents of the Klan are endeavoring to force the president's hand. Scores of messages of protest have been received, not only urging him not to address the Klan, but demanding he forbid its parade and meeting in the capital.

The numbers of cars received since January is the largest that has ever been received at South St. Paul during the first six months of any year.

The increase is attributed principally to the fact that northwest farmers have been in the habit of sending their livestock shipments to Chicago and Sioux City markets and have done their business at South St. Paul this year.

PROJECT FOR NEW STATE IS SERIOUS

CHICAGO MEANS SECESSION MOVE UNLESS TREATED FAIRLY BY SOLONS

Chicago, July 2.—Threatening to secede from Illinois and form a 49th state of the Union, Chicago started on a two-year campaign for better representation in the state legislature.

In regular session late Tuesday Chicago's city council voted to organize a committee of 150 residents to visit the state capitol at Springfield with a demand for reapportionment of the state.

Chicago insists that the Illinois constitution provides for a new apportionment on the basis of the last census and because this has not been carried out, Chicago is without equal representation in proportion to its growing population.

Failing to get adjustment after allowing the legislature two years to act, Chicago will go ahead with its attempt to secede, the councilmen decided.

This committee of 150 shall be authorized and empowered to petition the legislature to pass an act forming a new state, defining the boundaries and calling an election to determine whether the people of the proposed state desire to form a separate state government, a resolution adopted by the council stated.

Mayors, aldermen, county boards and other officers of nearby cities in Northern Illinois will be invited to join in the program of secession if the reapportionment fight fails, the council decided.

Ald. John Toman, author of the resolution, told the council Chicago was not alone in the demand for similar action regarding reapportionment. Other large cities were starting like movements, he said.

Chicago insists that the Illinois constitution provides for a new apportionment on the basis of the last census and because this has not been carried out, Chicago is without equal representation in proportion to its growing population.

Failing to get adjustment after allowing the legislature two years to act, Chicago will go ahead with its attempt to secede, the councilmen decided.

This committee of 150 shall be authorized and empowered to petition the legislature to pass an act forming a new state, defining the boundaries and calling an election to determine whether the people of the proposed state desire to form a separate state government, a resolution adopted by the council stated.

Mayors, aldermen, county boards and other officers of nearby cities in Northern Illinois will be invited to join in the program of secession if the reapportionment fight fails, the council decided.

Ald. John Toman, author of the resolution, told the council Chicago was not alone in the demand for similar action regarding reapportionment. Other large cities were starting like movements, he said.

BRITISH WARSHIP LANDS SAILORS TO QUIET MOB

SWATOW IS A TREATY PORT NORTHEAST OF HONGKONG

LATER THE NAVAL FORCES ARE WITHDRAWN FROM SCENE

(By United Press)
Hongkong, July 2.—Following attempts to board British vessels, the Chinese mob began an attack upon foreign hotels at Swatow.

The landing of an armed party from the British warship Bluebell served to quiet the mob which dispersed.

Later the naval forces were withdrawn. Swatow is a treaty port northeast of Hongkong.

The British consul member Holyoak has published a letter saying that if American members of the Canton college staff still adhere to their views concerning the Shamen shooting, the least they can do is to remove themselves from the colony of the powers whose action they persist in describing as wanton brutality.

FOREIGN WOMEN AND CHILDREN LEAVE HAINAN

New York, July 2.—Foreign women and children have fled from the Island of Hainan in the Province of Kwang Tung, China, according to a cable received today by the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church here from L. F. Lowrie, head of the Chinese Council at Shanghai.

Most all foreigners have left for Hongkong or elsewhere, the cable adds, indicating the situation still remains critical.

NEGOTIATIONS IN SHANGHAI BROKEN

Pekin, July 2.—Negotiations for adjustment of the Shanghai situation were broken today when the Chinese negotiators scheduled to meet informally Saturday with the foreign diplomats resigned.

Their resignations resulted from an unwillingness to restrict the proposed discussion to the Shanghai episode solely. They held that more far-reaching fundamental problems should also be considered by the two parties.

DANCING UNDER BAN BY C. E.

Minneapolis, July 2.—"Christian Endeavor societies do not sanction dancing," said Miss Ethel H. Boxell, state officer of the organization, speaking in Minneapolis.

Miss Boxell said that young people are not considered "goody goodies" just because they are active in Christian Endeavor work.

ST. PAUL TAKES OUT

TORNADO INSURANCE

(By United Press)

St. Paul, July 2.—Property owners of St. Paul apparently feared tornado more than earthquakes if various types of insurance underwritten during the past month can be taken as an indication.

A checkup on various representative insurance companies here shows that little, if any, earthquake insurance has been taken out, but a tremendous amount of tornado protection was written during June.

Larson-Anderson

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Tuesday of this week, when the bonds of matrimony united Roy Albert Larson and Miss Mabel Anderson. The ceremony was performed at the Presbyterian manse, with Rev. A. G. Patterson officiating.

The bride was attired in a grey suit, with hat to match, and carried bride's roses. Miss Selma Anderson, of Little Falls, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Leon Larson, brother of the groom, as best man.

After the ceremony the bridal party left for Little Falls, where a reception was held for the friends and relatives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Anderson, 603 West Broadway.

After the accustomed congratulations and receiving of guests, all were escorted to the dining room where a delicious four-course dinner was served. The rooms were beautifully decorated in pink and white and with brides roses on the tables. Roses, ferns and snapdragons were used in profusion. Dancing was enjoyed after dinner.

The bride is well known in the city, where she has been employed for two years. The groom is a machinist in the local Northern Pacific shops.

Out-of-town guests who attended the reception at Little Falls were Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Federation

"TO form a more perfect union" was the animating thought of the statesmen who met to draft America's constitution. Their problem was to weld the sections they represented into a political entity that would function most efficiently and enduringly in the service of the people.

A similar problem was presented nearly a century later to the organizers of America's telephone service. Licenses under the first patents were being granted to isolated companies that were forming to introduce local service. "A more perfect union" of these companies seemed, from the beginning of the telephone's adoption by the people, to be essential, and so the structure of the Bell System was planned.

This organization exists today substantially as it was then conceived,—a group of companies, each preserving its individuality and applying local knowledge to local needs, but all federated into a single cohesive union in order that nation-wide, universal service may be provided.

THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1925

SPAWNING SEASON OF BASS, CRAPPIES, SUNFISH, ETC.

It is difficult, by way of legislative enactment, to set exact dates controlling the spawning season of fish such as bass, crappies, sunfish, etc. Such seasons are affected by weather and other conditions. We append hereto some correspondence on the subject, which is self explanatory.

In a letter to THE DISPATCH, Commissioner James F. Gould, of the Game and Fish Department of the state, writes: "I want to thank you very much for the editorial comment in your issue of June 20, relative to proper seasons for the taking of the nest-building fishes, such as bass, crappies, sunfish, etc. Your interest in the problems of this department is greatly appreciated."

"In this connection I enclose herewith copy of inter-office communication addressed to me by Mr. Surber, superintendent of fish propagation, relative to this proposition."

Mr. Surber writes: "Your memorandum with attached editorial from THE BRAINERD DISPATCH noted. I am evidently quoted from an article published in the last issue of Fins, Feathers and Fur, wherein I made the statement that it was impossible to legislate, so as to control the spawning season, in a satisfactory manner and in at least two of my public talks I have not hesitated to say that in my belief laws covering this particular phase of protection should be made flexible enough to permit the Game and Fish Commissioner to set the opening date on which fishing should be done for bass, crappie and sunfish, but at the same time I have called attention to the fact that it would be utterly impossible to put a bill of this character through the legislature because of their reluctance to pass any blanket legislation granting you discretionary powers. At the same time I am convinced that this is the only solution of the problem so far as fixing the closed season on these fishes is concerned and in lieu thereof, in the article referred to above, I suggested the closing of spawning grounds in certain selected lakes which we are now doing."

FOURTH OF JULY IN BRAINERD

THE Fourth of July has had new duties accorded it by the government, being the Defense Day proceedings formerly attached to Armistice Day. In the Twin Cities there will be large parades of all branches of civilian life, etc., which would prove of service should there be a mobilization ordered.

The Fourth festivities are in the hands of the American Legion in our city, and in lieu of any parades, THE DISPATCH suggests that all patriotic societies, fraternal orders, civic clubs, trap-shooting clubs, etc., mobilize at Lam park for the celebration. Attend the celebration and hear the patriotic addresses, especially that of the orator of the day, Congressman Harold Knutson, and you will be instructed as to your duties in citizenship, the meaning of the Fourth of July, and the lessons to be derived from the day.

The Legion has done everything possible to make the Fourth a successful celebration in Brainerd. Show your interest in this natal day of the nation by attending the celebration. The program is replete with things to stimulate your patriotism. A birthday in your family is observed with hearty enthusiasm. That of our own country should be still more engrossing.

"SMOKE STACKS"

IN every community there are people who are always doing good and people who are always doing ill. There are those who are forever serving and giving and those who only ask and take, says the Red Wing Eagle.

There is no community that does not have those citizens who ask much from the community and who give nothing in return. They are loud in the demand for more "smoke stacks," but want the other fellow to take all chances while they sit on the sidelines and grab the benefits. His is a purely selfish loyalty.

It is an unhappy and unfortunate community that does not have the other type of citizens who are untiring in their efforts to help the home town. He never ceases to be solicitous of others and has a genius for doing at the right time those little acts which mean so much to the recipient. He is always ready to bear his part of any civic burden that a majority decided upon. He knows that no chain is stronger than its weakest link, and believes that community success, as a business proposition, is only possible through community loyalty. He does not measure his interest by any per cent of individual returns but as a whole. It is men of this character that supply the "smoke stacks."

STORES CLOSING ON SUNDAY

ST. CLOUD has started a campaign to rigidly enforce the law requiring stores to close on Sunday. Such a procedure is also being considered in Bemidji and at one time was the subject of much discussion in Brainerd.

The law, which is sought to be enforced in St. Cloud, contains the following provision:

"Things Prohibited—All Trades—except works of necessity performed in an orderly manner so as not to interfere with the repose and religious liberty of the community: Provided that tobacco, fruits, confectionery, newspapers, drugs, medicines and surgical appliances may be sold in a quiet and orderly manner. Nothing in this section shall be construed to permit the selling of uncooked meats, groceries, clothing, boots or shoes."

GOVERNOR CHRISTIANSON'S appointments of men who serve under the reorganization plan are most excellent ones. We were particularly pleased to see Gould of the state game and fish commission re-appointed.

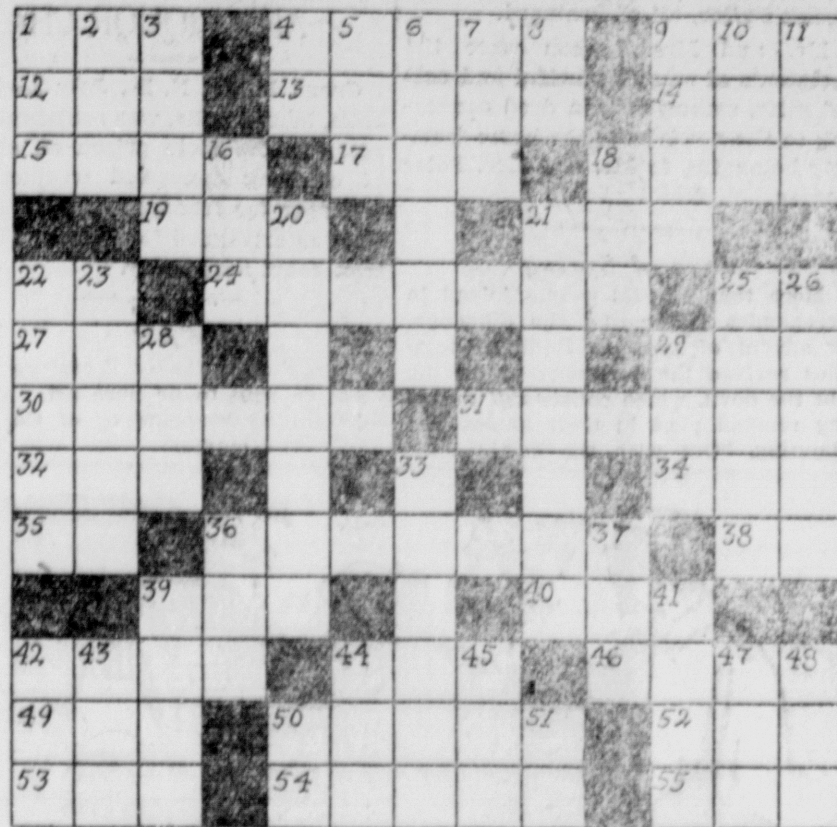

THE St. Cloud Chamber of Commerce now holds noon luncheons like the Rotary, Lions and other clubs.

TALK of a third term is always embarrassing to a president in office. No one has served a third term.

YES, advertising can ruin you, says the Glenwood Herald, provided you let your competitor do it all.

If you don't believe in yourself, you can never succeed, says the Dassel Dispatch.

Why Spring Cleaning

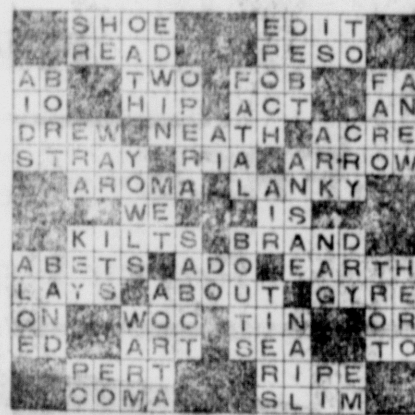

The idea of spring cleaning came to the moderns by way of the Dutch people, who borrowed it from the ancient Jews. Cleaning up was a custom associated with the celebration of the passover, which falls about the same time as Easter. The first mention of spring cleaning in the English language appears to have been in the writings of Sir Thomas More, the famous lord chancellor, who was beheaded by Henry VIII.

"Get Your Goat"

The origin of this phrase, which means to annoy, irritate or make angry, is not known for certain. Modern lexicographers believe "goat" in this expression is a contraction of "goatee," the chin tuft or pointed beard. THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1925

SPAWNING SEASON OF BASS, CRAPPIES, SUNFISH, ETC.

It is difficult, by way of legislative enactment, to set exact dates controlling the spawning season of fish such as bass, crappies, sunfish, etc. Such seasons are affected by weather and other conditions. We append hereto some correspondence on the subject, which is self explanatory.

In a letter to THE DISPATCH, Commissioner James F. Gould, of the Game and Fish Department of the state, writes: "I want to thank you very much for the editorial comment in your issue of June 20, relative to proper seasons for the taking of the nest-building fishes, such as bass, crappies, sunfish, etc. Your interest in the problems of this department is greatly appreciated."

"In this connection I enclose herewith copy of inter-office communication addressed to me by Mr. Surber, superintendent of fish propagation, relative to this proposition."

Mr. Surber writes: "Your memorandum with attached editorial from THE BRAINERD DISPATCH noted. I am evidently quoted from an article published in the last issue of Fins, Feathers and Fur, wherein I made the statement that it was impossible to legislate, so as to control the spawning season, in a satisfactory manner and in at least two of my public talks I have not hesitated to say that in my belief laws covering this particular phase of protection should be made flexible enough to permit the Game and Fish Commissioner to set the opening date on which fishing should be done for bass, crappie and sunfish, but at the same time I have called attention to the fact that it would be utterly impossible to put a bill of this character through the legislature because of their reluctance to pass any blanket legislation granting you discretionary powers. At the same time I am convinced that this is the only solution of the problem so far as fixing the closed season on these fishes is concerned and in lieu thereof, in the article referred to above, I suggested the closing of spawning grounds in certain selected lakes which we are now doing."

FOURTH OF JULY IN BRAINERD

THE Fourth of July has had new duties accorded it by the government, being the Defense Day proceedings formerly attached to Armistice Day. In the Twin Cities there will be large parades of all branches of civilian life, etc., which would prove of service should there be a mobilization ordered.

The Fourth festivities are in the hands of the American Legion in our city, and in lieu of any parades, THE DISPATCH suggests that all patriotic societies, fraternal orders, civic clubs, trap-shooting clubs, etc., mobilize at Lum park for the celebration. Attend the celebration and hear the patriotic addresses, especially that of the orator of the day, Congressman Harold Knutson, and you will be instructed as to your duties in citizenship, the meaning of the Fourth of July, and the lessons to be derived from the day.

The Legion has done everything possible to make the Fourth a successful celebration in Brainerd. Show your interest in this natal day of the nation by attending the celebration. The program is replete with things to stimulate your patriotism. A birthday in your family is observed with hearty enthusiasm. That of our own country should be still more engrossing.

"SMOKE STACKS"

In every community there are people who are always doing good and people who are always doing ill. There are those who are forever serving and giving and those who only ask and take, says the Red Wing Eagle.

There is no community that does not have those citizens who ask much from the community and who give nothing in return. They are loud in the demand for more "smoke stacks," but want the other fellow to take all chances while they sit on the sidelines and grab the benefits. His is a purely selfish loyalty.

It is an unhappy and unfortunate community that does not have the other type of citizens who are untiring in their efforts to help the home town. He never ceases to be solicitous of others and has a genius for doing at the right time those little acts which mean so much to the recipient. He is always ready to bear his part of any civic burden that a majority decided upon. He knows that no chain is stronger than its weakest link, and believes that community success, as a business proposition, is only possible through community loyalty. He does not measure his interest by any per cent of individual returns but as a whole. It is men of this character that supply the "smoke stacks."

STORES CLOSING ON SUNDAY

ST. CLOUD has started a campaign to rigidly enforce the law requiring stores to close on Sunday. Such a procedure is also being considered in Bemidji and at one time was the subject of much discussion in Brainerd.

The law, which is sought to be enforced in St. Cloud, contains the following provision:

"Things Prohibited—All Trades—except works of necessity performed in an orderly manner so as not to interfere with the repose and religious liberty of the community: Provided that tobacco, fruits, confectionery, newspapers, drugs, medicines and surgical appliances may be sold in a quiet and orderly manner. Nothing in this section shall be construed to permit the selling of uncooked meats, groceries, clothing, boots or shoes."

GOVERNOR CHRISTIANSON'S appointments of men who serve under the reorganization plan are most excellent ones. We were particularly pleased to see Gould of the state game and fish commission re-appointed.

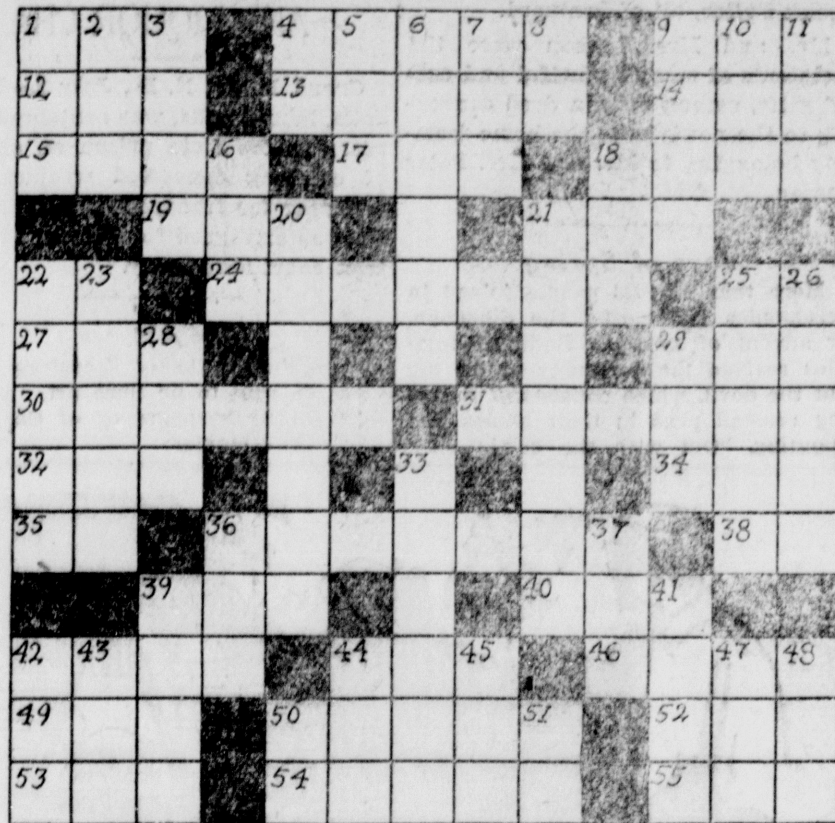

THE St. Cloud Chamber of Commerce now holds noon luncheons like the Rotary, Lions and other clubs.

TALK of a third term is always embarrassing to a president in office. No one has served a third term.

YES, advertising can ruin you, says the Glenwood Herald, provided you let your competitor do it all.

If you don't believe in yourself, you can never succeed, says the Dassel Dispatch.

Why Spring Cleaning

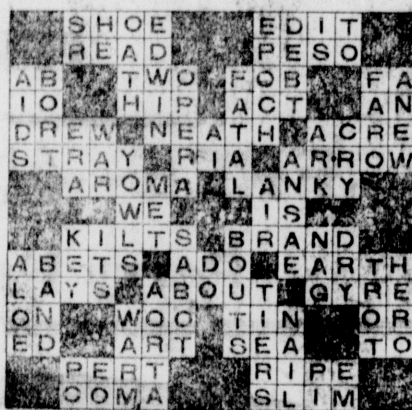

The idea of spring cleaning came to the moderns by way of the Dutch people, who borrowed it from the ancient Jews. Cleaning up was a custom associated with the celebration of the passover, which falls about the same time as Easter. The first mention of spring cleaning in the English language appears to have been in the writings of Sir Thomas More, the famous lord chancellor, who was beheaded by Henry VIII.

Persia in History

Persia or Iran, in the Old Testament called Eiam, is situated in southwestern Asia. Its early history is mythical.

For some time the country was ruled by the Medes, living to the north, but in the year 559 B. C. the Persians under Cyrus revolted against the Medes, overthrew the Medo-Babylonian monarch, conquered Asia Minor, and became masters of the East. Cyrus, the king of the Persians, was killed in battle in 529 B. C.

At a smart restaurant in Central Park, a young woman wore a tri-color gown which attracted much attention, not because it resembled the flag, but because the colors were combined in a stunning manner. The navy blue bodice was rather tight-fitting and extended slightly below the normal waistline. The skirt was full shirred onto the bodice. It began with an eight inch deep layer of red, joined to this was a layer of white twice the depth of the red and the deep border was of dark blue. The red was slightly darker than the red used in the flag.

Not long ago several women returned from Paris wearing dresses that looked as though they were made of the French flag and before long the American frocks in tri-color effect were appearing in our shops. One window displays a model of silk crepe which has a navy blue skirt full into a white bodice, whose full sleeves are printed with irregularly sized stars and caught in at the wrist with a red cuff. Red piping is used about hemborder and rounded neckline.

HEDDA HOYT TALKS ABOUT
THINGS THAT INTEREST THE
BUSY WOMEN OF 1925

FOR JULY FOURTH

By HEDDA HOYT

(Written for the United Press)
(United Press Staff Correspondent,
New York, July 2.—Patriotic frocks are quite the vogue. Red, white and blue frocks with printed stars or the three colors without the stars, are shown in many of the smartest shops in New York. And peculiar to say, it is the well dressed women who are wearing unusual frocks.

At a smart restaurant in Central Park, a young woman wore a tri-color gown which attracted much attention, not because it resembled the flag, but because the colors were combined in a stunning manner. The navy blue bodice was rather tight-fitting and extended slightly below the normal waistline. The skirt was full shirred onto the bodice. What is a Balloon Tire?

THE announcements of two years or so ago defined a balloon tire as—

"A tire of large cross-sectional diameter having a thin, flexible side wall so it can be run at low enough air pressure to provide a soft air cushion between the car and the road."

That was the industry's ideal.

That was what the car owner was told he would get.

That is what the car owner does get in the U. S. Royal True Low-Pressure Balloon.

But he doesn't get it in all tires that carry the word "Balloon" on the side wall.

Some tires labeled Balloon wear out too fast when run soft, so they must be run at too high pressure to give ideal cushioning and comfort.

The makers of U. S. Royal Balloons have stuck to the original idea and ideal.

The U. S. Royal Balloon is built of Latex-treated Web Cord.

This provides the necessary strength and flexibility for low air pressure.

It also has the U. S. Low-Pressure Tread which distributes the weight evenly over the entire tread surface and eliminates early, uneven and unsightly tread wear.

It can therefore be run at low enough pressure for ideal cushioning without injury.

Many nice big round tires with the name "balloon" on the side wall can't.

Persia in History

Persia or Iran, in the Old Testament called Elam, is situated in southwestern Asia. Its early history is mythical. For some time the country was ruled by the Medes, living to the north, but in the year 559 B. C. the Persians under Cyrus revolted against the Medes, overthrew the Medo-Babylonian monarch, conquered Asia Minor, and became masters of the East. Cyrus, the king of the Persians, was killed in battle in 529 B. C.

What is a
Balloon Tire?

THE announcements of two years or so ago defined a balloon tire as—

"A tire of large cross-sectional diameter having a thin, flexible side wall so it can be run at low enough air pressure to provide a soft air cushion between the car and the road."

That was the industry's ideal.

That was what the car owner was told he would get.

That is what the car owner does get in the U. S. Royal True Low-Pressure Balloon.

But he doesn't get it in all tires that carry the word "Balloon" on the side wall.

Some tires labeled Balloon wear out too fast when run soft, so they must be run at too high pressure to give ideal cushioning and comfort.

The makers of U. S. Royal Balloons have stuck to the original idea and ideal.

The U. S. Royal Balloon is built of Latex-treated Web Cord.

This provides the necessary strength and flexibility for low air pressure.

It also has the U. S. Low-Pressure Tread which distributes the weight evenly over the entire tread surface and eliminates early, uneven and unsightly tread wear.

It can therefore be run at low enough pressure for ideal cushioning without injury.

Many nice big round tires with the name "balloon" on the side wall can't.

HEDDA ROYT TALKS ABOUT
THINGS THAT INTEREST THE
BUSY WOMEN OF 1925

FOR JULY FOURTH

By HEDDA ROYT
(Fashion Editor of the United Press)
(Written for the United Press)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, July 2.—Patriotic frocks are quite the vogue. Red, white and blue frocks with printed stars or the three colors without the stars, are shown in many of the smartest shops in New York. And peculiar to say, it is the well dressed women who are wearing unusual frocks.

Not long ago several women returned from Paris wearing dresses that looked as though they were made of the French flag and before long the American frocks in tri-color effect were appearing in our shops. One window displays a model of silk crepe which has a navy blue skirt fluted into a white bodice, whose full sleeves are printed with irregularly sized stars and caught in at the wrist with a red cuff. Red piping is used about hemborder and rounded neckline.

At a smart restaurant in Central Park, a young woman wore a tri-color gown which attracted much attention, not because it resembled the flag, but because the colors were combined in a stunning manner. The navy blue bodice was rather tight-fitting and extended slightly below the normal waistline. The skirt was full shirred onto the bodice. It began with an eight inch deep layer of red, joined to this was a layer of white twice the depth of the red and the deep border was of dark blue. The red was slightly darker than the red used in the flag.

Another tri-color frock worn at a country club on a recent Sunday was of sports design. It had a little hip-length jacquette of bright red velvet, which was worn open displaying a white crepe sports blouse which was attached to a blue crepe skirt.

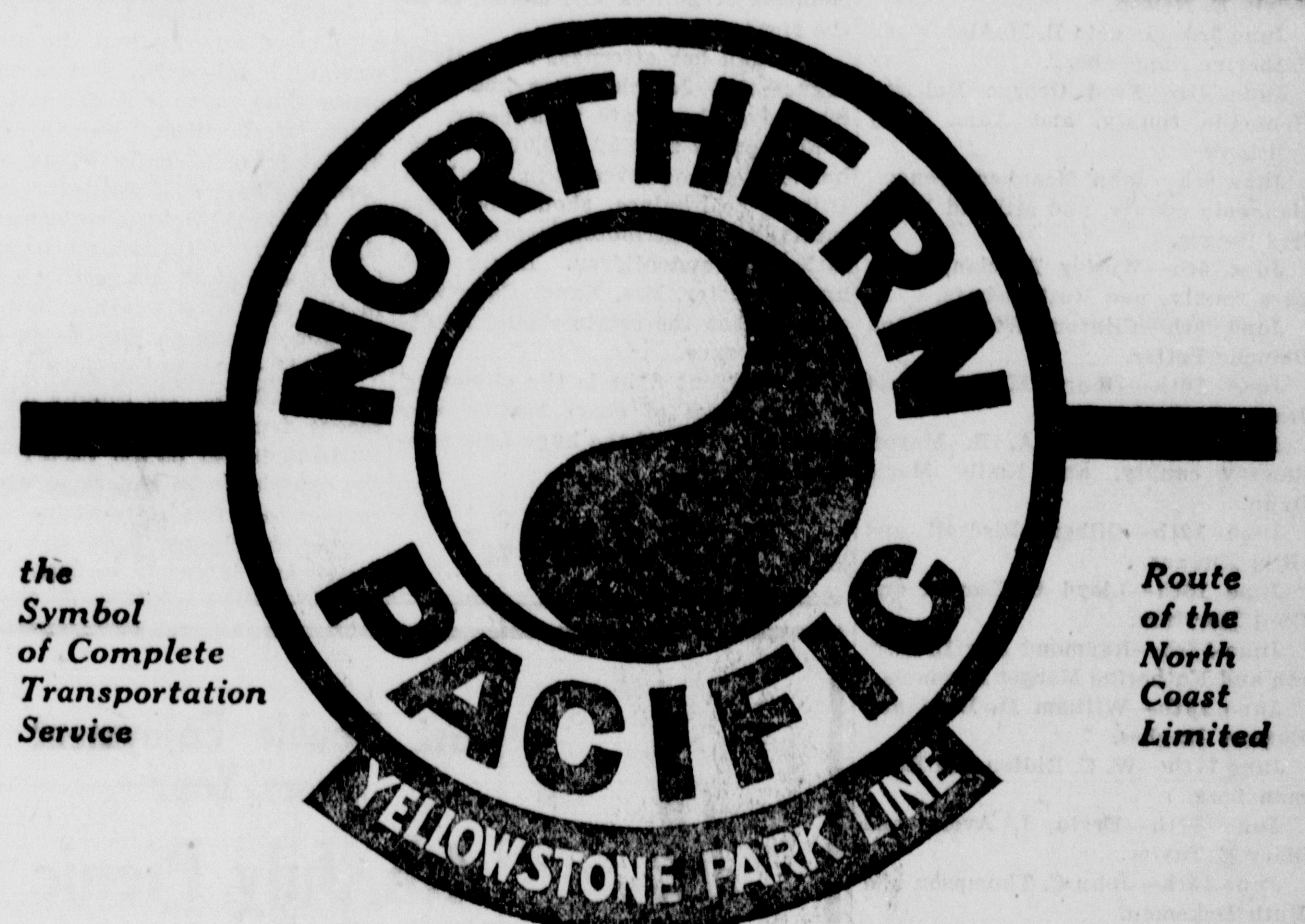

Still another model utilizing the flag idea is made of navy georgette in slender lines. The sleeves are very fullballoon affairs of red and white striped georgette and they gather into a navy wristband. The underslip is white with a deep red border.

He Doubted It
A sight-seeing bus was riding through Yellowstone National park when it passed a lone pine tree by the side of the road. At the very top was an osprey's nest built of loosely woven sticks. The driver called above the grind of the motor: "Osprey's nest." The travelers on the second seat shouted it back to the travelers on the third seat. Finally a crotchety old man on the rear seat shouted back to the driver: "Do you mean to tell me that an ostrich built his nest way up in the top of that tree?"—Mentor.

LEITER HEIRS ARE TO FIGHT

COURT TO PASS ON THEIR DISPUTE OVER A VAST ESTATE

Chicago, July 2.—Heirs to the Levi Leiter $50,000,000 estate are to have their legal fights settled Friday by Judge Dennis Sullivan.

On that day Judge Sullivan will decide whether Joseph Leiter, a son, or his sister, Lady Marguerite Hyde, countess of Suffolk and Berke, is in the right.

Through her attorneys Lady Hyde argues that Joseph Leiter has been managing the estate improperly.

She insists that $2,000,000, which her brother has invested in Southern Illinois coal mines, should be kept intact and distributed among her father's grandchildren. Leiter and another sister, Mrs. Nancy Campbell, argued that the estate should be divided at once.

The present fight is the climax of a long series of court battles over administration of the huge Leiter estate.

"Fighting the Flames" Filled With Thrills

For thrills and action in motion pictures it will be hard to beat "Fighting the Flames" showing at the Lyceum tonight and Friday. It is, as its name implies, a fire picture only instead of having the fire as the big kick in the last reel this picture has several fires.

Engines dash down the street. At the last fire there is a most difficult rescue scene accomplished in which the hero has to lift the girl up to a roof when there is no other place to go. The rescue is accomplished on a scaling ladder. Anyone who has ever tried to climb anywhere on these portable broomsticks with rungs on the sides knows what a difficult task this must be. The cast includes Wm. Haynes, Dorothy Devore, Sheldon Lewis, David Torrence, Chas. Murray and Frankie Darrow, the boy wonder.

"Oh You West" With Lefty Flynn at Lyceum 4th of July

A riot of laughter and thrills, with more comedy than the average straight laugh-maker and more suspense than many big dramatic features, "O. U. West," Fourth of July Special starring Lefty Flynn at the Lyceum Theatre on Saturday. Young Mr. Oliver U. West, a wild and dissipated boy with too much money, is shipped out to his partner's ranch in the west by his father; but since the story starts on the Pacific Coast, Oliver is consigned eastward to the west, F. O. B. He renews his most recent drunk on the train, with the Pullman porter as his vis-a-vis; and the experience he undergoes when he arrives in a fine state of inebriation at the ranch are both screamingly funny and intensely serious.

Style Note

An increase in automobile accidents during 1925 is practically a certainty, particularly in the downtown sections.

The reason? Paris and Hollywood have decreed that dresses will be even shorter this year than ever before. Skirt bottoms will have only distant nodding acquaintance with slipper tops and the dress that is closer than fifteen inches to the ground will be the ultra modest kind.

A Parisian style authority brings his word to Hollywood. He was imported by Paramount to create fashions for the screen in "The Dressmaker From Paris" at the New Park last time tonight, which marks Leatrice Joy's return to motion pictures.

"WINTER KILLING" OF CERTAIN PLANTS

Discussed at Executive Meeting of County Garden Flower
Society

THE FALL FLOWER SHOW

Dahlias and Gladioli to be Featured
at That Exposition

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Crow Wing County Garden Flower Society, held on Tuesday the "Winter killing" of certain plants and shrubs was discussed.

Last winter was very hard on many varieties of flowers and vegetables. Some old beds of asparagus were killed, much shrubbery suffered, new roots, such as peonies did not fare well unless they had been well mulched, and L. P. Hall called attention to the killing of one thing which brought no regrets—dandelions.

A recent visitor to the coast spoke of the thousands of evergreen trees which were killed in the valleys about Paradise, Montana, as well as shrubbery along the coast.

It was pointed out that sometimes winter killing is due, in the case of shrubbery, to its entering into the winter in too dry a condition.

A meeting of the members of the garden flower society will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Tuesday afternoon, July 7th, at 2:30 o'clock. This meeting is for the purpose of discussion and arranging for the fall flower show, when dahlias and gladioli will be featured.

It appears that there are many who are training their plants to produce prize flowers for this show, and it is expected that the event will be the largest of its kind that has been staged locally.

No date can be assigned as yet for the show, but it seems probable that it will be held the last of August or first part of September.

Lighting Company Pays Three Months' Dividends

Red envelopes bearing checks from the Minnesota Power & Light Company were received through the mail on July 1 by hundreds of residents of the territory served by the company. The money was the regular dividend paid by the company every three months to its preferred stockholders. These dividends amount to more than 7 per cent a year on each dollar invested.

It is believed that the Minnesota Power & Light Company in its sale of preferred stock taught the benefits of investment to hundreds. Many who received checks have owned shares of this stock since it was first issued and have always received their dividends every three months.

100 ROAD SIGNS

TO BE SET OUT

Signs 2 Feet Square, Painted White
With a Black
Border

"BAD TURN," "CROSS ROAD"

On Reverse Side is Black Circle, With Number of Road,
Etc.

The county highway department, under the direction of County Engineer Walter M. Murphy, is preparing 100 road signs for use on roads under his supervision.

These signs are about two feet square, painted white with a black border. On them is painted the warning "Curve," "Bad Turn," or "Cross Road," in black lettering.

On the reverse side of the sign is a black circle containing the number of the road, and above it the legend "Crow Wing County."

These signs are to be erected at once on all state aid roads in the county, which will make them practically as well marked as the trunk highways are.

The state aid roads in Crow Wing county are four in number, being the "Dewey highway" east and west through the southern tier of townships; the Brainerd-Merrifield-Cross Lake-Emily road; the Crosby-Emily-Outing road; and the Deerwood-Bay lake highway. Each is an important connecting link between the various township roads and the trunk highways in the county.

An Invitation

I wish to extend a cordial invitation to farmers and all other residents of this territory to Brainerd to spend the Fourth. The American Legion are working hard to make the day one of enjoyment and entertainment and I wish to express my hearty appreciation to them and to aid them all possible.

FRIDAY, SATURDAY, JULY 3, 4

Patrons of Theatre to be Given Little Spectacles to Aid in the Optical Effect

On Friday and Saturday, July 3 and 4, the New Park will present not alone the best but the most amazing film achievement of recent years. It is something in thrills, the Ives-Leventhal Stereoscopes "Zowie."

No development in the motion picture field in recent years has attracted so much attention as the Ives-Leventhal stereoscopes. No forward step has been made that equals it in importance or interest. It means that the third dimension has been discovered and perfected in motion pictures. It means that at last the screen has been given depth instead of the usual flat surface. Those pictures make the characters stand out like live people on the stage.

You will be given little spectacles at the door of the theatre that will make the characters of the screen come toward you with startling life likeness. No thrill can equal this.

You sit at ease in a comfortable chair and pretty girls swing out of the screen toward you kicking impudently at your nose. Another girl swims out until you can almost touch her. Then she dodges out of your grasp. This is just one of the high-lights of this picture.

It will be shown with the feature picture, "My Wife and I," starring Huntley Gordon and Irene Rich at the New Park theatre on Friday and Saturday at regular prices. By all means see it.

"WINTER KILLING" OF CERTAIN PLANTS

THE FALL FLOWER SHOW

Dahlias and Gladioli to be Featured
at That Exposition

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Crow Wing County Garden Flower Society, held on Tuesday the "Winter killing" of certain plants and shrubs was discussed.

Last winter was very hard on many varieties of flowers and vegetables. Some old beds of asparagus were killed, much shrubbery suffered, new roots, such as peonies did not fare well unless they had been well mulched, and L. P. Hall called attention to the killing of one thing which brought no regrets—dandelions.

GAINS VANTAGE POINT BY WIN FROM Y, 7 TO 6

STAGE REMARKABLE RALLY IN LAST TWO INNINGS OF GAME

ENGBRETSON LOST GAME ONLY THROUGH THE HARD BREAKS

The B. P. O. E. baseball team advanced to first place in the league standings by winning a close game from the Y. M. C. A. last night, 7-6.

The winners came from behind in the last two innings and squeezed out a victory. They held the Y team in the last frame, after the Y. M. C. A. had loaded the bases with one out.

Van Walk's superb throwing in this inning saved the game for the Elks. Ziebell made two nice running catches of long flies in center field.

Steinfeldt also brought out a cheer from the spectators by a nice catch in the fifth stanza.

Ziebell for the winners, and Peterson for the losers, each got a double and two singles in four trips.

Engbretson threw a nice game for the losers, and lost the game only through hard breaks, and failure of his teammates to shove runs over the plate in the pinch.

Tonight the Y. M. C. A. and B. A. C. teams play, on the new N. P. Municipal diamond. Fans are urged to remember the game, and see how the new field will be for playing.

Seats will be provided for all.

NON-RESIDENT FISHERMEN

North Dakotan Does Not Object to Paying $3 License For Anglers

The local chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America feels that the following editorial, published in the St. Paul Pioneer Press of Sunday, June 21st, covers the situation so well, that it has asked that it be reprinted herewith:

Those sportsmen of North Dakota who enjoy coming into Minnesota to fish but who have been complaining of late because the Minnesota Legislature increased non-resident angling licenses to $3 and placed additional restrictions on the amount of fish that may be taken from the state should take to heart the advice of W. C. Taylor. Living in North Dakota, the chances are they know that Mr. Taylor is editor of the LaMoure Chronicle, a veteran newspaperman of the state and for six years state commissioner of insurance. Mr. Taylor appreciates Minnesota fishing. He does not object at all to paying $3 a year for the privilege of enjoying it.

A $3 non-resident angling license in Minnesota is a regular annual levy upon him, too, for his automobile covers the road into Ottortall county so often that if machines were animated it would know the route. Says he, in his column, "Taylorgrams": "The amount of this fishing license is of small consequence. It will never provide a fund large enough to insure the army of wardens needed to patrol the thousands of lakes from which fish are taken illegally every year." Thus writes Mr. Taylor, in the face of the fact that "fishing in Minnesota ain't what it used to be. And it is getting no better fast. The answer is mainly to be found in the

Almost the first knowledge gained by the beginner in golf should be regarding the balance of his body during the swing. That balance must be perfect in order that the other parts of the swing may be made correctly. It is exactly as necessary to the timing of the swing as the foundation is for a house.

Perhaps the best way to learn this balance is to make the golf swing with the arms and let the movements of the shoulders, hips and legs be only such as will let the arms go through their movements correctly. All during this movement—one can go through with it as readily without a club as with one—the sole effort should be to keep the balance perfectly. Be sure the heels are down in the beginning and do not do a particle of extra foot work. Simply let the heel come up with the back swing and the right heel on the forward swing as much as they will come naturally. Take your natural stance, swing the arms as in the golf stroke and concentrate on keeping a perfect balance all through the movement.

Beginning this movement slowly and without a club, one can accelerate the speed gradually and still retain a perfect balance. Care must be taken to go through the same procedure with the club in the hands or the same old fault of lack of balance will appear. Keep it in mind that you are not practicing a golf swing solely. Put the swing entirely out of mind if it interferes with concentrating on the balance. Best of all, try out the whole thing before a mirror. Keep your eyes on your reflection and note that the head stays in the same place. It must not bob up or down, or forward or backward. It turns with the swing but that must be the only motion. Least of all must there be a backward and forward movement of the head, following the motions of the arms.

Imagine yourself with your feet flat, feeling the weight on the heels, and the forehead against a spot on a wall. With all the other movement the forehead remains against that spot, with the head twisting as noted. That idea, carried out, will give the sense of balance.

fact that Minnesota got its fish conservation program under way about twenty years too late. And it still permits that most atrocious offense against the rudiments of conservation—winter fishing by means of net and spear. The wonder is that the fish supply in that state was not long since exhausted. The artificial hatching of fish eggs and their distribution to the various lakes of the state has thus far averted that calamity." So Mr. Taylor goes on not complaining because the cost of his license was increased, but, while remarking casually that he had "miserable luck last week" calling upon Minnesota to keep up the good work, praising the Game and Fish department for what it has done and demanding that it do more of the same, especially toward stopping illegal fishing. That sort of spirit in the matter is worth thinking about. Cooperation, not complaint, is what this man is offering Minnesota authorities. It serves as a worthwhile example not merely to other non-residents, but to Minnesota anglers as well. It indicates something, too, about Mr. Taylor. He is not only an enthusiastic fisherman. He is a sportsman. He should have better luck the next time he comes to Minnesota. He deserves it.

NEGRO BATTLER IN SERIOUS BOUT

HARRY WILLS MUST MAKE GOOD AGAINST REVIVED WHITE HOPE

By HENRY L. FARRELL

New York, July 2.—Harry Wills, the giant negro stevedore, is a 4 to 1 favorite to win from Charley Weinert, revived white hope, when they meet here tonight in one of the feature bouts of a card that is to be staged for the benefit of the Italian hospital fund.

Wills, while he warrants a long price, is up against a serious position which will have everything to do with his future prospects. Weinert is not any too dangerous despite the noise being made about him, but Wills must win quickly and decisively or give up his claim to first consideration as a heavyweight challenger.

On two previous occasions, Wills has blown himself right out of a place where he could force Dempsey to fight him or step down off the throne by making a very poor showing in two rather inferior fights against Bartley Madden, who, by no means could be considered as anything but a tough punching bag. Wills looked no better than a good second-rater and when he fought Luis Firpo he looked almost as bad as the winner and Firpo did as the loser.

The Wills boosters excused his showing with the rather feeble plea that for political reasons he had to work under wraps and that he was under a pull all during the two fights. It is not easy to trace the source of authority that would have enough influence to make Wills sacrifice what reputation he would have acquired by a quick victory over Madden or Firpo. If there is such a thing as a dictator with power enough to keep Wills from knocking out a white man he had better declare himself tonight and take a chance on using his real form and his best efforts. He has lost prestige since Gene Tunney stopped Tom Gibbons, even if he had the protection of the New York boxing commission in keeping any other contender away from the first crack at Dempsey. If he does not look like a champion against Weinert he might as well quit boxing.

Hagen Equals Course Record at Grand Forks

Grand Forks, N. D., July 2.—Walter Hagen, master golfer demonstrated Tuesday how it is possible to play perfect golf seven days in the week when he rung up a 72 for the 18 holes on the Lincoln park course here. Hagen's score, one under par, equalled the record held by Axel Olson, Grand Fork's professional, and proved that such a thing as being off one's game is a malady suffered only by those of the lower golfing strata.

Playing with Merb Booker, Grand Forks amateur, he defeated Axel Olson and Bill Lindgren, young Crookston professional, 6 and 5. The 18 holes were played out and Booker shot 82; Olson 85 and Lindgren 83. The match was a best ball affair that was all equal at the end of the first nine, but Olson and Lindgren failed to win a single hole on the last lap, their best efforts ending with three halves.

ELKS NOW OCCUPY FIRST PLACE IN LEAGUE

EAST FAVORED TO BEAT WEST

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, July 2.—Another of those triumphs of the east over the west, which have been much in vogue in recent years, is expected at the annual outdoor A. A. U. track and field championships which start this week in San Francisco.

The main rivalry will be between the New York Athletic Club, power of the east, and the San Francisco Olympic Club, the main strength of the west. The New York A. C. sent to the coast one of the most powerful teams ever assembled in the east, but even the most hopeful of the eastern partisans had little confidence that such a powerful team as the Olympic Club could be defeated.

Eastern critics grant the San Francisco team a sure thirty points with a possibility of more and no team among the entries can hope to score that many points.

The Olympic Club has been strengthened by the addition of a flock of college talent and it is almost a foregone conclusion that the east will have more success in defeating the western club athletes than the eastern colleges had in downing the University of Southern California.

Miss Glenna Collett's fine showing in the British golf championship and the success in winning the French title of Mile. Dela Chaume, rated as the Leglen of French golf, will undoubtedly make her the favorite for the American woman's championship as there are no American girls on present form who stand to beat her.

Although she did not succeed in winning the British championship from Miss Joyce Wethered, the American girl scored a distinct personal triumph in England, as was expected.

She became almost as popular with the British golfing public as Miss Helen Wills did last year at Wimbledon with the English tennis fans and the manner in which they conducted themselves will do much to promote cordial feeling between the two nations.

When Miss Wills was beaten several times at Wimbledon the London press, instead of boasting of the downfall of an American champion, expressed sympathy for her with the opinion that she was not playing her real game.

When Miss Collett was defeated in the British golf classic, the experts said that only the greatest of golf players, Miss Wethered, could have beaten her.

There is no question that Miss Wethered is the greatest of woman golfers.

NON-RESIDENT FISHERMEN

North Dakotan Does Not Object to Paying $3 License For Anglers

The local chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America feels that the following editorial, published in the St. Paul Pioneer Press of Sunday, June 21st, covers the situation so well, that it has asked that it be reprinted herewith:

Those sportsmen of North Dakota who enjoy coming into Minnesota to fish but who have been complaining of late because the Minnesota Legislature increased non-resident angling licenses to $3 and placed additional restrictions on the amount of fish that may be taken from the state should take to heart the advice of W. C. Taylor. Living in North Dakota, the chances are they know that Mr. Taylor is editor of the LaMoure Chronicle, a veteran newspaperman of the state and for six years state commissioner of insurance. Mr. Taylor appreciates Minnesota fishing. He does not object at all to paying $3 a year for the privilege of enjoying it. A $3 non-resident angling license in Minnesota is a regular annual levy upon him, too, for his automobile covers the road into Ottentail county so often that if machines were animate it would know the route. Says he, in his column, "Taylorgrams": "The amount of this fishing license is of small consequence. It will never provide a fund large enough to insure the army of wardens needed to patrol the thousands of lakes from which fish are taken illegally every year." Thus writes Mr. Taylor, in the face of the fact that "fishing in Minnesota ain't what it used to be. And it is getting no better fast. The answer is mainly to be found in the

19—Balance.

Almost the first knowledge gained by the beginner in golf should be regarding the balance of his body during the swing. That balance must be perfect in order that the other parts of the swing may be made correctly. It is exactly as necessary to the timing of the swing as the foundation is for a house.

Perhaps the best way to learn this balance is to make the golf swing with the arms and let the movements of the shoulders, hips and legs be only such as will let the arms go through their movements correctly. All during this movement—one can go through with it as readily without a club as with one—the sole effort should be to keep the balance perfectly. Be sure the heels are down in the beginning and do not do a particle of extra foot work. Simply let the heel come up with the back swing and the right heel on the forward swing as much as they will come naturally. Take your natural stance, swing the arms as in the golf stroke and concentrate on keeping a perfect balance all through the movement.

Beginning this movement slowly and without a club, one can accelerate the speed gradually and still retain a perfect balance. Care must be taken to go through the same procedure with the club in the hands or the same old fault of lack of balance will appear. Keep it in mind that you are not practicing a golf swing solely. Put the swing entirely out of mind if it interferes with concentrating on the balance. Best of all, try out the whole thing before a mirror. Keep your eyes on your reflection and note that the head stays in the same place. It must not bob up or down, or forward or backward. It turns with the swing but that must be the only motion. Least of all must there be a backward and forward movement of the head, following the motions of the arms.

Imagine yourself with your feet flat, feeling the weight on the heels, and the forehead against a spot on a wall. With all the other movement the forehead remains against that spot, with the head twisting as noted. That idea, carried out, will give the sense of balance.

fact that Minnesota got its fish conservation program under way about twenty years too late. And it still permits that most atrocious offense against the rudiments of conservation—winter fishing by means of net and spear. The wonder is that the fish supply in that state was not long since exhausted. The artificial hatching of fish eggs and their distribution to the various lakes of the state has thus far averted that calamity." So Mr. Taylor goes on not complaining because the cost of his license was increased, but, while remarking casually that he had "miserable luck last week" calling upon Minnesota to keep up the good work, praising the Game and Fish department for what it has done and demanding that it do more of the same, especially toward stopping illegal fishing. That sort of spirit in the matter is worth thinking about. Cooperation, not complaint, is what this man is offering Minnesota authorities. It serves as a worthwhile example not merely to other non-residents, but to Minnesota anglers as well. It indicates something, too, about Mr. Taylor. He is not only an enthusiastic fisherman. He is a sportsman. He should have better luck the next time he comes to Minnesota. He deserves it.
